HOOK OR CROOK

A REVOLVER EXCLUSIVE

Second LP by terrifying one man band alter ego of Steve Pallow (ex- Beguiled, Necessary Evils). Louder and catchier than "Panther Howl", the new LP "Pile O' Meat" features more roots raunch tales of murder, torture and depravity. The Mojave Desert-dwelling one man band's new album has 13 original songs as well as covers of Johnny Horton ("Broken Hearted Gypsy") and Pat Boone ("Moody River").

Since his last Hook or Crook LP in 2006, Haunted George has released 7" s on Solid Sex Lovie Doll (Italy) and Nasty Product (France). "Pile O' Meat" is available on CD and LP. The LP version comes with a free CD of the album itself inside the sleeve. An edition of 200 LPs on green and purple swirled vinyl is also available.

"A strange one-man grovel in graveyard dirt by Steve Pallow (ex-Necessary Evils). It totally delivers on the failed promise of an album I once had by a guy calling himself "The Singing Mortician." It's kinda like the Zacherle/Bryan Gregory duo album you always dreamed of."

— Byron Coley & Thurston Moore
BULL TONGUE / ARTHUR MAGAZINE

"A paranoid, nightmarish and altogether disturbed aural hallucination; each drum thud the lockstep of a weary fella who's lost himself in the twilight of the uninhabited desert; every space between beats a sparse landscape devoid of humanity, yet rife with fear and exaggerated panic. A creepy dirge that calls to mind pieces of American folklore, the extraterrestrial, the supernatural, murder. Y'know, a BAD TRIP. And not something you're bound to hear from any other one man band today."

— Eric Lastname, TERMINAL BOREDOM
